Dana Nichols and Christine Hall

Hi Dana and Christine –

The graphic below is something that Christine and I walked in the park and discussed, design is to help beautify the Storywalk stretch of the trail at City Park. The design includes only wind tolerant plants for now, as the 3 Ceanothus get larger and offer shelter, a less wind tolerant flowering shrub could go in there. As we learn what works, we will start getting more diversified plantings. We thought we could circle it with beautiful driftwood pieces from the beach, to define the area.

Christine’s grant has just $75.00 left for City Park plants. Dana, do you think that the City can pick up the other $99.00 to make this garden happen? Let me know and I will set the plants aside for this.
